Carpeting and Much More

As students moved up into the new PHS, they noticed many innovative features. One feature that the majority of the students liked was the carpeting. The Commons, or the lunchroom, was used as a walkway, as well as a place for meetings.

The business department was equipped with new IBM typewriters and adding machines, although some of the typewriters and desks were late in arriving. The first two weeks of school business students used cardboard boxes as desks. The Steno Block students spent two hours doing nothing but shorthand and grammar for the lack of machines. Not only did the students not have desks, but also the teachers were without them. Teachers used a chair to store their materials.

Demise of TSI

The school had many new special rooms other than just classrooms. It had a wrestling room, gymnastic room, reprographics room, larger locker rooms, lecture room, conference room, and forum. There were three rooms known as the TRC's or Teacher Resource Centers where teachers have wall-hung desks.

One of the new programs was the TSI period. The TSI was a unique idea which came and exited quickly. It was a fifty minute break in the middle of the day for students to attend club meetings and other extracurricular activities. One reason for this program was to boost student involvement in clubs. It began to create problems, though. Students, instead of going to meetings, would loaf around the Commons making it very crowded during the lunches. It was done away with and this extra hour was divided to add several more minutes to each class and lunch period as well as providing for a homeroom period.

FACES

For the first time in sixty-one years, Seniors started their final year of school in a completely new building. Although they quickly adjusted to the change, most Seniors still had reservations about the new facilities. They appreciated some aspects, such as air conditioning, but they were quite vocal in complaining about others. Typical comments were: "They need a traffic light at the lockers;" "A purple and red auditorium . . . Gross!" and "What nut decided there wouldn't be any windows?" Kathy Phillips expressed a wide-spread feeling remarking, "I think if they wanted to build a new school they should have waited until they had sufficient funds, because this place is totally inadequate for our needs."

Many Minor Frustrations . . . Being a Senior

With the start of school in August, seniors found themselves in the role they had envied for eleven years. At last, they were the oldest students in the school. However, they were soon faced with the many minor frustrations that come with being a senior. Class-spirited individuals who tried to revive the old tradition of senior cuts in the lunch line were chased by Mr. Gray. Teachers seemed to delight in assigning research papers. Worst of all, lectures too often began with, "If you think this is hard, just wait until college."

Senior privileges were virtually nonexistent. A senior lounge and the march through the school with the class coffin was not allowed because of fear of damage to the new school. Several committees were formed to discuss senior privileges with the administration, but little was accomplished.

Seniors contributed much to making it a successful year. They dominated the regional champion football team with twenty-seven members, one state champion wrestling team with five members, and the baseball team with nine members. During the Senior year, a survey was taken of the members of the class as to what their future goals and plans were. Of the 64 students polled, 67% were planning to attend either a 2 or a 4 year college, 26% were planning to get a job, 5% were either getting married or already married, and the other 2% were undecided as to what the future held for them.

Here are a sampling of the results:
Cheryl Wainwright — "I plan to go to college and get a degree in pharmacy, then open 'Cheryl's Drugs'."

Joseph Insley — "I want to become a fireman."

Linda Gilliland — "I intend to play professional tennis."

Billy Rollins — "Get Rich!"

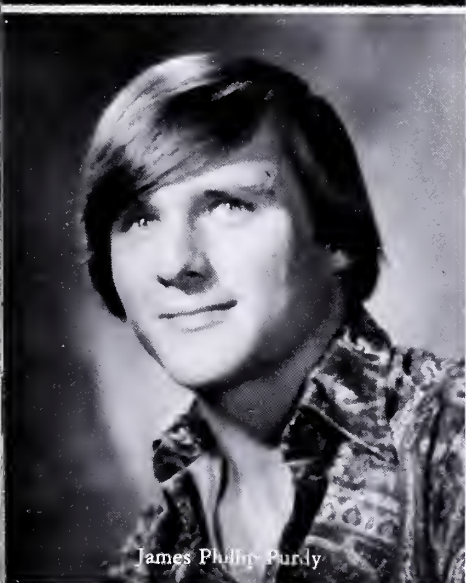

James Hall — "Get wasted and raise X#!X!! and party till the day I die!!"

As graduation approached, the college-bound Seniors hurried to complete their plans for the next year. According to Lori Poor, "There's a lot to do!" Those who had not yet chosen a college were finally forced to come to a decision. Virginia Tech was chosen by the largest number of Seniors (16) who planned to attend college away from home; but many other schools were also selected. Some were as close by as Thomas Nelson Community College, others were as far away as the University of Florida and Brigham Young University.

Becoming Seniors brought a lot of changes to the Class of '77. Not only were there physical changes such as the new school and new teachers, but there were also other changes occurring such as learning to make decisions concerning the future. The Class of '77 made all of the adjustments and soon became the leaders of the various school activities. Yes, it was a great year for the Class of '77.

One of the major highlights of the year for the Junior Class was receiving class rings. After picking up their rings, the Juniors went straight to the Commons during the lunch blocks, getting friends to turn their rings. However, they saved turn number 78 until the night of the ring dance.

In search of a fund raising project, the Juniors and class advisors resolved to return to the tradition of a ring dance. Halfway through the dance, the Juniors and their dates formed a line and marched underneath a floral arch where they turned their rings the last time. The couples then formed a ring around the arch. There was a dance only for the Juniors as the band played "Colour My World."

The ring dance was not too successful as far as fund raising, but as a dance spotlighting the Juniors, it was a triumph.

The Junior Class officers and advisors worked together throughout the year. They held several meetings with the entire Junior Class. At these meetings, the class colors, song, and flower were established. They decided on baby blue and silver as the colors. The song chosen was "Nights in White Satin." The white rose was selected as the class flower. The Junior Class officers were: President, Mike Kehoe; Vice-President, Karen Holloway; Secretary, Cindy Wallace; and Treasurer, Jeanne Ruark.

The Junior Class started the year off in a very poor financial state. The main reason for these financial difficulties was non-payment of class dues, although Junior Class Officers had several drives to collect back dues.

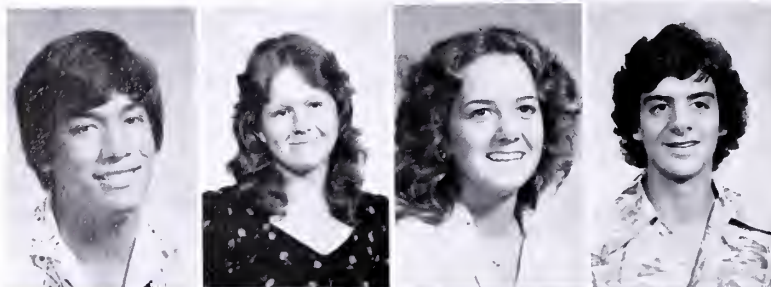

Juniors sponsored several other fund-raising projects, among them the Ring Dance and Sadie Hawkins Dance. Several basketball games between the students and the faculty were held. Juniors sold candy and stuffed bulls and also raised money by selling soft drinks at the Varsity basketball games. Finally they were successful in raising enough funds for the prom.

Class of '80

The year brought many new things for the Class of '80, a new school with all new facilities. They also had a Teacher-Student Interaction period in the middle of the day which was to be used for attending club meetings and other activities. Unfortunately, due to the lack of participation on the part of many students, TSI was deleted. When asked what her feelings were on the deletion of TSI, Rita Goode answered, "I understand the reasoning behind cutting TSI, but I think it should be reinstated periodically to see if people causing its (TSI) deletion have learned their lesson."

Officers for the freshman class were: President, Lee Chaffin; Vice-president, Mike Andre; Treasurer, Courtney Gensler; and Secretary, Maresa Firth. During the April elections, freshman Bruce Deginder was elected SCA treasurer for 1977-78.

When asked what she thought of the new high school, Susan Downs remarked, "I think its really neat, you have a new atmosphere but you have to get used to no windows." Freshman Bill Holton said, "Its a terrific school but I think it should have been built a lot larger."

Teachers

The proposed state education cut was an important issue with the teachers at PHS. Mrs. Joyce Gaines, head of the science department commented, "It would greatly reduce the purchase of the needed science supplies." "Naturally, I do not like it, but our government expenditures may have to be cut if the country is to be solvent." stated the sponsor of the National Honor Society, Mrs. June Kump. Mrs. Jane Peterson, new teacher, said, "It is unfortunate at a time when Poquoson is growing and we need new programs and resources to meet these needs."

STUDENT LIFE

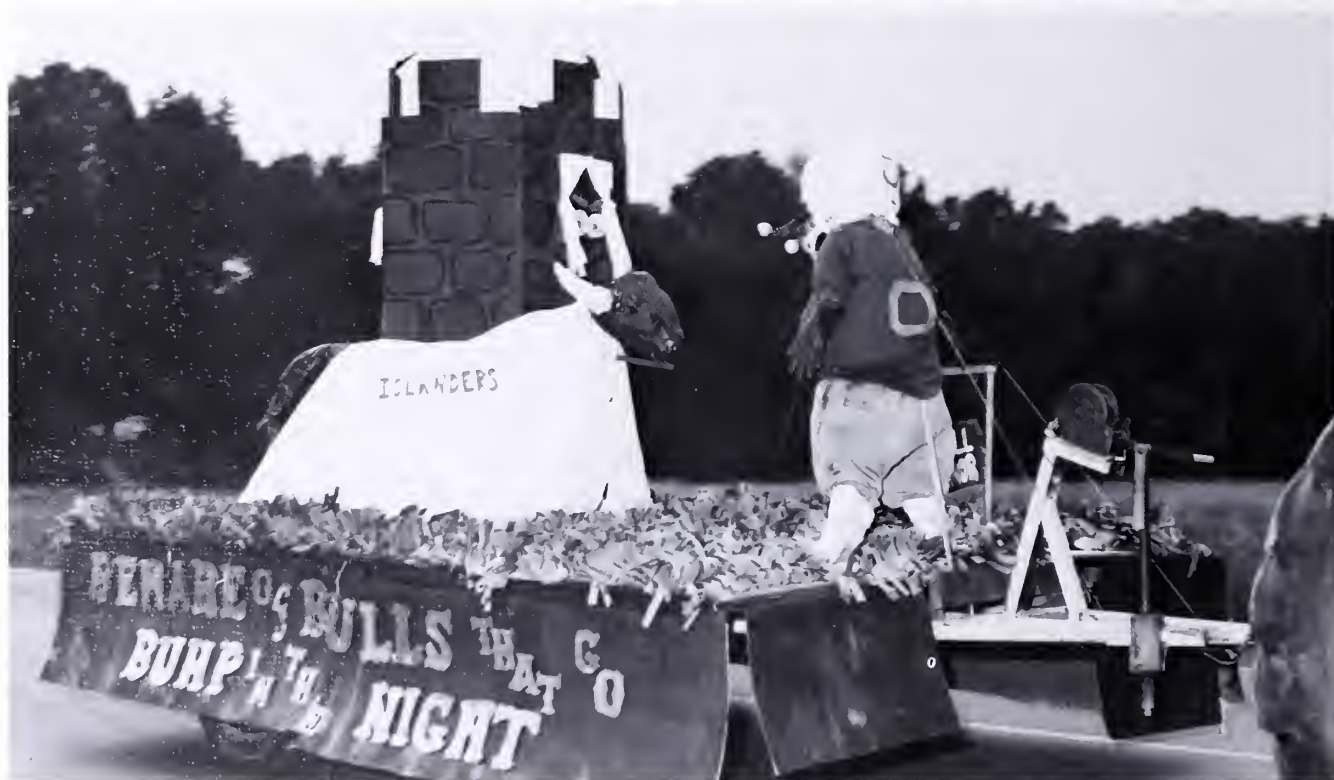

Homecoming 1976 got under way, after weeks of preparation, with a new theme, the Supernatural. The Bull Island chapter of the National Honor Society, under the leadership of sponsors Mrs. June Kump and Mrs. Joan Wynn, led a concerted effort to produce a memorable Homecoming. The cooperation of the participants made the novel parade a success.

On game night, activities got under way with a keynote address by Mr. Norris L. Thomas, former PHS principal.

Good weather prompted an overflow crowd which came alive with the playing of "Hail Poquoson High" and the entrance of the football team. At halftime the blue ribbon was given to the Freshman class for the float "Beware the Bulls that go bump in the night." The band then formed a heart while majorettes performed their fire baton act in the midst of a glowing, hot pink heart. The finale was the presentation of the Homecoming court. Representatives were: Freshman, Laurie Wendorf; Sophomore, Karen Pauls; Junior, Sharon Barbee; and three Seniors, Tami Ulisse, Cathy Page, and Kathy Phillips. Cathy Page was crowned Homecoming Queen by Principal R.F. Gray at the conclusion of halftime. In the homecoming game the Islander football team charged to a victory of 40 to 0 over Surrey.

FREEDOM SHRINE

During a May ceremony a Freedom Shrine was presented to Poquoson High School by the Wythe Exchange Club. Mayor Joseph Bunting commented on the meaning of the Freedom Shrine. Speaker Judge Russell M. Carneal of Williamsburg emphasized the importance of the documents to our heritage.

The purpose of the Freedom Shrine is to foster an appreciation of our American heritage. The replicas of these most famous documents in American history were placed in the main lobby of the high school.

The forum of the new high school was the setting of the Miss Poquoson High School Pageant. As the audience flowed through the doors of the new forum, a big red banner "Merry Christmas" greeted them. The theme "We need a little Christmas" was carried throughout the decorations. On stage was a Christmas tree, fireplace, several wreaths and a Santa Claus.

The six contestants entered were: Laurie Bunting, Michelle Morgan, Caroline Parrish, Carol Stanfield, Debbie Townsend and Mary Wescott. These contestants selected Michele Morgan as Miss Congeniality. The contestants awarded gifts to emcee Reverend Clifford East and the sponsors.

While awaiting the results, Marie Watkins, 1976 Miss PHS, gave Rev. East a baton twirling lesson. The talent award was presented to Carol Stanfield for her version of "Icestorm" on the xylophone. Winners were: second runner-up, Mary Wescott; first runner-up, Debbie Townsend; and the 1977 Miss PHS, Michelle Morgan.

Dedication

Dedication of the Poquoson High School took place March 20, 1977. The Islander Band opened the ceremony performing "America the Beautiful." Cindy Elmore, SCA President, led the invocation. After Dr. O.E. Ware welcomed parents, Mr. Gray introduced the special guests. Entertainment was provided by the Mixed Chorus. Mayor Joseph Bunting gave the dedicatory remarks. Dr. John Hunt, Chairman of the school board read the dedication of the building. The benediction was read by Senior Earl Miller.

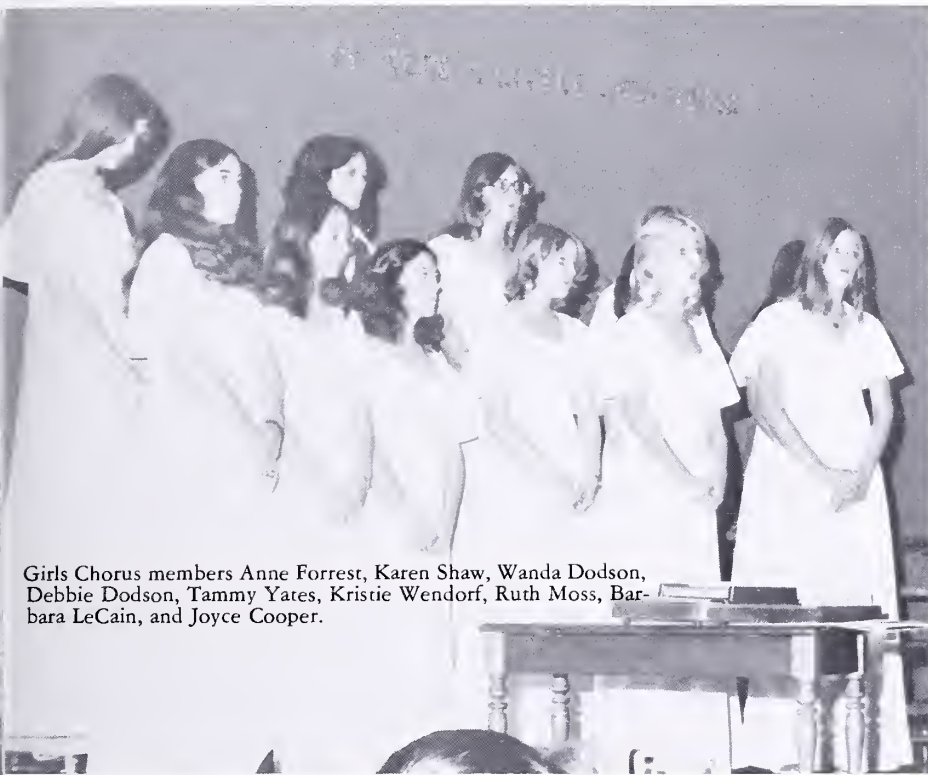

FHA and the PTO provided refreshments for the reception afterwards. Guests were offered a tour of the building by Varsity Cheerleaders.

Holly Ball

The Holly Ball was sponsored by the S.C.A. According to most students, it was one of the best ever given. There was a very good attendance, much higher than the year before. The dance was held in the commons which was decorated with holly and other Christmas decorations.

"A lot of hard work, effort, and determination was put into last years Holly Ball. It was a tremendous success," stated Mrs. Beverly Phillips.

After many technical and dramatical difficulties, The PHS Drama Department presented two performances of "Tell Me That You Love Me Junie Moon". Due to a State basketball tournament, attendance at the play was very poor. "Each time we do a new play at PHS we seek new challenges. We have presented a comedy, a mystery, a musical, and now, a drama. Serious drama is difficult but our actors and crew members have done very well", remarked Mrs. Sandy Katz, sponsor.

Members of the cast include: John Goren (Brad Crawford), Marilyn (Michelle Barton), Arthur (Tres Matthews), Junie Moon (Katrina Mizelle), Gregory (Kathy Martin), and Warren (Mark Matzeder).

"You're A Good Man Charlie Brown," the annual spring production, was a huge success. Weeks of late night rehearsal culminated in a truly memorable performance. Dale East, playing the inimitable Charlie Brown, seemed to create a role made especially for him. Lucy (Kristie Wendorf) counseled Charlie Brown on his book report from her psychiatric booth. One highlight of the presentation was a baseball game involving the entire Snoopy gang. In the grand finale the whole group sang.

With the arrival of Senior Week, many underclassmen were aware of a feeling of pending doom. The week started out fairly calm. On Tuesday, the Seniors had a separate lunch shift — free of underclassmen. This was the day the Seniors had a steak dinner. Wednesday was the day for baccalureate practice and the traditional burning of the coffin without the traditional march through the school. Thursday brought the dreaded Senior Government Day. A lounge was set up, along with a special Senior lunch line and eating area. Delinquent underclassmen were dealt with by the "Fuzz" Squad, and were often left with the mark of "77". Thursday was also the day that Seniors "taught" class. The week ended with the class trip to King's Dominion and the Seals and Crofts concert.

(Above) Arriving with a police escort, Gene Hunt, Rev. Will Boylan solemnly leads the processional as Russell Clausen gets it all on film. Russell Clausen is amused at school principal Will Boylan's method of detention for a delinquent underclassman.

"Too hot and too crowded" was the general consensus of all who attended the Junior-Senior Prom at the Bonhomme Richard Inn in Williamsburg. Before the evening was over, most of the guys had taken off their jackets and ties. Jim Frishkorn stated, "It (the ballroom) was hotter than the locker room after football practice." Lynne Willis commented, "The dance floor was so crowded you couldn't move and the heat was stifling."

Everyone enjoyed the music which was by Brass Managerie. Cheryl Wainwright had only one complaint, "I wish the band had played our class song." The Senior class song was "The Theme from Mahogany."

Tommy Freeman, Thomas Moore, Cheryl Wainwright, Lynne Willis, Gee Freeman, and Marie Fanelli make light of how hot the ballroom is at the punch bowl.

"Too hot and too crowded"

Queen Cathy Page and King Mark Geissinger admire their crowns before they start the next dance. Bruce Pierce and Barabra Moore wait as Bev Moore sadly says good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. Katz.

Graduation was a night to be remembered by every member of the Class of '77. The night began with the PHS Band opening up with "Pomp and Circumstance" followed by Rev. George Colston giving the invocation. Mr. Gray lent graduates his ideas of success. He then introduced speakers and guests. Gee Freeman, Salutatorian, spoke of the changes that had taken place in the community during his high school years. Valedictorian, Karen Jackson, then gave a farewell address to the Class of '77.

The guest speaker, Rev. Lewis H. Morgan gave the graduation address. Bill Ayers was presented the Joe Thomas Award. Past recipient, Sheryl Moore, presented the plaque to Bill and told what it had meant to her to have received the award.

Mr. Gray speaks to graduates about their future.

At least 19 graduates were awarded scholarships. The total amount of scholarships received was over $18,000. Debbie Garrett received the most with $3,000 from an anonymous Georgetown Grant, $700 from a Georgetown scholarship, and $800 from a Fellowship Award. Lynn Willis received several awards. She received the M.U.M. Presidential Scholarship of Excellence worth $1,300. Gee Freeman got $800 from a Johns Hopkins University Grant. Rusty Gates received the Engineer's Club of the Peninsula Annual Award. Becki Jerd won the Fellowship Award. Karen Jackson, Marie Fanelli, and Penny Insley received National Honor Society Scholarships of $100 each. Cheryl Wainwright, Greg Insley, and Cindy Elmore won Poquoson Foundation Scholarships of $225 each. Earl Miller and Penny Insley received the "I Dare You" Award.

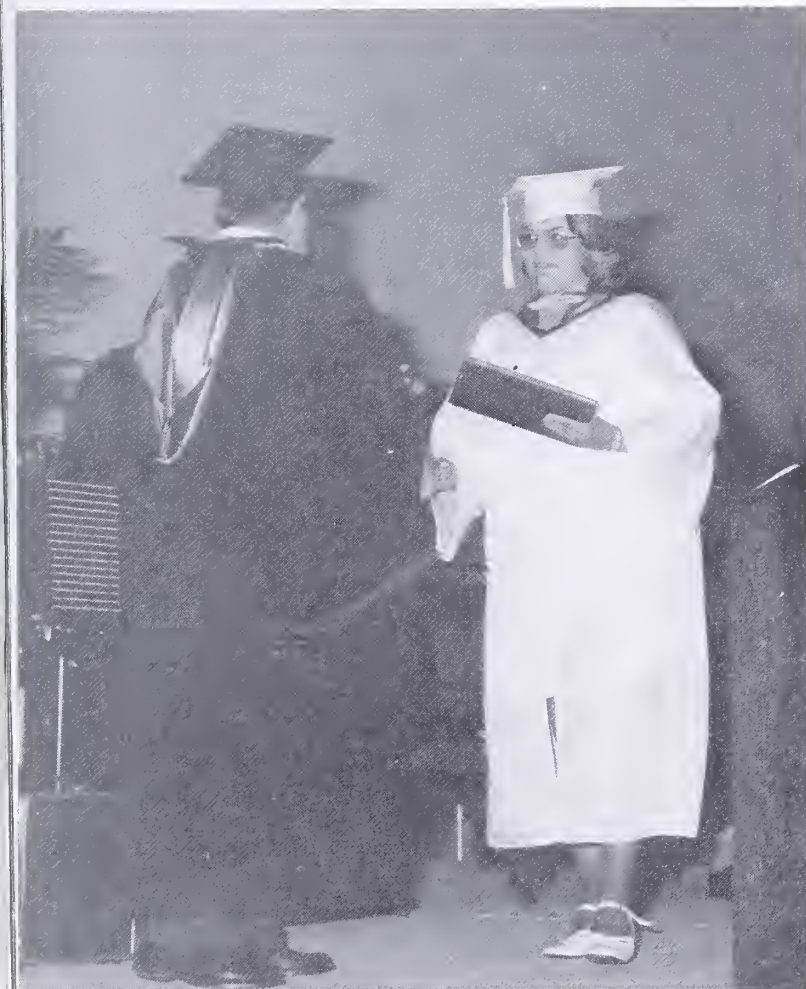

Thomas Moore receives his diploma as Lynn Willis carefully comes to get hers.

Ah! the life of a slave.

Sean Rose auctions off Sandy Webster and Bonnie McDaniels.

Fund-raising was one of the main activities of the S.C.A. during the year. A slave sale and various candy sales helped bring additional funds for the organization which hoped to buy a milk shake machine for the new school. The most publicized event was the Care Free gum contest. For weeks PHS students were writing Care Free gum on any paper available. Although PHS didn't win the contest and the concert by England Dan and John Ford Coley, the students did submit almost one million entries.

An impressive candlelight ceremony was held by the National Honor Society to induct new members into the organization. During the year a candy sale was held to raise funds for the organization. The National Honor Society also sponsored the Homecoming Parade. Art Club members sponsored an Art Show for display of their handicrafts in the spring. FBLA members held their usual canned food drive at Christmas and held a spring picnic for members.

Mother-Daughter Banquet

FHA members were kept very busy with the club's activities during the year. Members took several trips to the Baptist Home. Each time they took gifts for the elderly patients. There were several bake sales and members sold candy apples at football games. In addition they sold stationery and cookbooks. At the conclusion of the year the club held the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet at which members received certificates. At the banquet also members presented a plaque to president Sharleen West.

Slave auctions were very popular at PHS last year. The SCA held an auction in the fall and the Junior Class held an auction in the spring to raise funds for the Junior-Senior Prom. Prices were sometimes very high. Some slaves brought as much as eight dollars and were purchased by groups instead of individual bidders. Slaves were forced to carry books, purses, and lunches for all their masters. Some even had to dress up for the event.

Bert Whitaker praises the virtues of slaves while Mike Kehoe and Sean Rose try to keep slave Bruce Ballard under control.

Students had an opportunity to voice their opinions and support the candidate of their choice in the mock election held in November. Polling booths were available for use. After the speeches students voted and elected President Ford as their choice in the election. Unfortunately the rest of the nation did not agree with the PHS students, as they saw in the November election, but right or wrong they had the chance to choose.

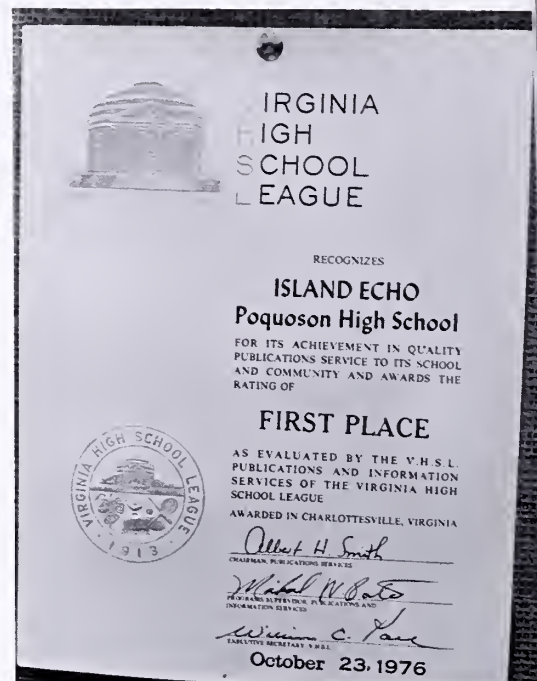

MOCK ELECTION

ISLAND ECHO

The staff of The Island Echo worked hard last year to produce ten issues. The highlight of the year was winning first place in Virginia High School League competition. Mrs. Linda DuBose, sponsor, commented, "While the Echo was by no means perfect, I feel that the paper has improved in layout and copy quality."

With most of the staff being graduating seniors, Mrs. DuBose felt that the new year would prove quite a challenge for a novice staff. Karen Jackson, editor-in-chief, exerted great effort to make sure production schedules were achieved.

A new company and a new way of doing things; that's the way yearbook began. At the Virginia High School League Publications Workshop in Charlottesville, the 1976 yearbook won a first place award.

Meetings for advertisement sales began in August. As the first deadline approached, members spent hours after school every day, striving to finish their layouts. "Yearbook membership has definitely hit an all time low," declared Mrs. Carole Weed, sponsor. Membership in the yearbook had dwindled from fifty to seven, which caused the few people left to have to work much harder with more assignments. The basic reason for the tremendous drop was the dropping of the TSI period.

New leaders produced dramatic changes in the band procedures and style. Mr. Kessler, the former director at Hunnington Elementary School, brought the band from immobile shows to moving picture field shows. At first the band was confused about the innovative program. The band had to learn new marching steps such as eight to five and left or right pinwheels. The purpose of the new techniques was to upgrade the performances. Among the routines performed by the band were the formation of a Homecoming, concert formation, and moving boxes. The renovated program helped to upgrade the performances.

The renovated band program proved to be a success last year. The band placed second in the Williamsburg Christmas Parade and the Lancaster Band Festival. In the Madison Homecoming Parade and the Kiwanis Band Muster the band was rated third. Breaking the tradition of attending the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, the band competed in the Festival of the Stars in Atlanta during April. In order to participate in the Festival members held two car washes and sold dozens of doughnuts. At the Festival the band placed first in the field show competition for the class A division. Sharleen West, the new Drum Major, took second place at the Festival in open competition for Drum Majors.

Majorettes Tammy Edwards, Martha Sykies, Danette Holloway, and Donna Silver concentrate on the routine in the homecoming parade.

Majorettes

Winning first place in all competition they entered, the Islander Majorettes had a superior year. At camp the Majorettes took first place in the Strutting category. They earned another first place in the Williamsburg Christmas Parade. At the Festival of the Stars in Georgia, the Majorettes placed first also. They were in open competition against flag corps, other majorettes, and drill teams from band of all classes.

The Islander Majorettes; Tammy Edwards, Martha Sykes, Cathy Page, Julie Pride, Danette Holloway, Donna Silver and Marie Watkins.

Superior

The twelve member Pom-Pon squad began last summer by attending the Golden Eagle Pom-Pon and Drill Camp. There the squad received two superior, and one excellent awards and an overall superior rating for the routines learned at camp. In every competition entered, the squad received no lower than a second place. In Williamsburg Christmas Parade the squad placed first. At the Days Inn Festival of the Stars, in Atlanta, the Pom-Pon squad received a score of ninety out of one hundred points. The squad was in competition with Rifle Corps, Flag Corps, and Majorettes from bands of all sizes and classes.

Martha Martin and Martha Ferguson practice their routine before going to Georgia.

Flag Corps

The 1977 Flag Corps; Maresa Firth, Patrice Emerson, Karen Pauls, Kathy Martin, Bonnie McDaniels, Corry McGraw, Tracy Garrett, and Amy Hunt.

Attending the University of Virginia Drill Camp, Islanders Kathy Martin and Maresa Firth returned with awards. Kathy won the award for the most improved while Maresa won her award for the best executed routine. In April the Flag Corps participated in the Festival of the Stars, doing a routine to "Grandioso." The size of the Flag Corps prevented them from winning anything in the Festival. The seven member Flag Corps competed against fourteen member Flag Corps, Majorettes, and Drill teams. The Flag Corps were in open competition.

Tracy Garrett executes the routine while Bonnie McDaniels and Corry McGraw count before starting their part.

The Color Guard; Rita Goode, Beverly Moore, Tina Fanelli, Kathy Insley, Caroline Parish, Susan Downs and Nan Hopkins.

Color Guard

The Color Guard began the year with a full squad. However, during the course of the year, membership dropped from six to four. Beverly Moore, head of the Color Guard, recruited new members. The purpose of the Color Guard was to announce the arrival of the Islander band. Also to carry the American Flag, the School Flag, the Bicentennial Flag, and rifles.

SPORTS

"This was the best season that the Poquoson football program has ever had," commented Senior David Brandt. "Even though we didn't win state, I know that we were the best!" This was the strong team spirit that was felt by one and all and it had a lot to do with the winning season.

Experience was another key factor this year. Half of the returning team was comprised of seniors and 27 of the returning members were lettermen. Experience was also found in the coaching staff, with head mentor Olen "the Big O" Evans returning for his eleventh year and Tom Fay for his eighth year.

The season record showed the whole team effort, and it is a sure bet that no one will forget it for a long time, especially Coach Evans. The season was his best ever as head coach at Poquoson. Coach Evans was asked how he felt concerning this, he answered by saying, "It was great. The boys worked hard. Plus, we had the advantage of community and school support!"

Members of the 1976 Islander Football Team were: (right to left — first row) Lori Poore, Danny Kehoe, Jim Frost, Brad Watkins, Joe Abney, Mike Kehoe, Bill Ayers, Tom Fox, Chip Hall, Kim Call, Dana Mitchell, and Maureen Burke. "This was the best season the J.V. squad ever had," stated new head coach Brian Adkins. He attributed the winning record to the team's unity, spirit, and the long, hard hours of practice. The other J.V. mentor was Frank Jackson who was in charge of the line-man.

The team's season record was five wins and one loss. Both the defense and offense were very strong, but the defense paved the path all through the year.

Another strong factor in the team's excellent season was the team's leadership. Each of the tri-captains contributed to the unity and development of the team. The tri-captains were Kyle Poore, Tony Whitlow, and Sid Pauls.

The 1977 Varsity Cheerleaders were full of spirit under the guidance of a new sponsor Mrs. Marie Sproull. They presented us with more pep rallies then in past years. With the Homecoming pep rally being the favorite. Through-out the year the cheerleaders put forth extra effort to present little tokens of appreciation such as candy and carmel apples, popcorn, cup cakes, lollipops to help boost the morals of the team players. Also the girls raised money by raffling off a television the proceeds from which went towards their trip to the state wrestling tournament. All this contributed to a thrilling and exciting year for the cheerleaders.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders show that they are number one.

The Junior Varsity cheerleading squad, composed of ten members, was under the direction of a new sponsor, Mrs. Paula Gregory. During the summer of 1976 they went to cheerleading camp. Their hard work at camp paid off by winning them two red ribbons and also one white ribbon. With several games and practice twice a week, the cheerleaders were very busy all year. They liked performing in pep rallies, parades, and also at football and basketball games. J.V. cheerleader Maresa Firth commented, "Cheering was so much fun mainly because of the success of the Junior Varsity teams."

Linda, Cindy, Heidi, and Missy discuss a new cheer.

Lori Wendorf demonstrates her acrobatic ability in this cheer.

Manoeuvring around her opponent, Cathy Rollins sets up the play.

From the beginning of their first game, it was obvious that the team's intense work had paid off. They smashed Surry by fifty-two points, setting the pattern for the rest of the season. Tri-captains Gigi Johnson, Jeanne Ruark and Cindy Wallace led the team through the following games, where the opponents were out-scored by an average of forty points. It was not until the state championship that the team faced any serious competition. Their determination and stamina enabled them to come from ten points down in the final quarter to defeat Clifton Forge by one point.

Relaxing in the lockerroom during halftime, Gigi Johnson displays her skill at handling the basketball.

During time-out the team discusses the plan of action.

Last August while many Poquoson High students were still lounging in the sun enjoying their summer vacations, the girls basketball team began grueling two hour practices, twice daily in the summer heat.

"It was miserable, but worth it," commented Susan Frishkorn concerning the long work outs. During these practices the players developed stamina and skill that proved to be embarrassing to the other teams. First-year coach Dennis McNelis also designed a new offense and defense to suit the needs of the player material. The primary change was the installment of the fast break in the offensive game which helped the team to out-run their opponents.

The 1977 Varsity Basketball team was coached by Mr. Dave Nelson and Mr. Richard Routten. They showed tremendous improvement through-out the year by improving their scores and winning 2 games more then in the past season. Captain for the squad was Senior Robbie Lockard. Other Seniors on the team were Will Boylan, Frank Jackson, and Bill Forrest. In scoring they were led by Robbie Lockard, John Keating, Craig Forrest, and Keith Thomas. The team was led in rebounding by John Keating, and Keith Thomas.

The 1977 Junior Varsity Basketball team was under a new coach Mr. Richard Routten who led the basketball team through a tough season. They gained much needed confidence and improved fundamentally through-out the year. Captain for the squad was Sophomore Greg Blackstock. The leading rebounder and scorer was eighth grader Terry O'Donohue. Terry was also voted Most Valuable player for the season. During the season the J.V.'s were in the Tabb Christmas Invitational Tournament in which they placed second.

David Brandt wins the 138 lb. title.

The 1976-77 Wrestling Team turned out to be quite a success. With four State Champions, two second place finishers, and one third, the team had little difficulty taking State. In the finals, Keith Roberts, after defeating the returning state champion at 112 lbs., fell short at the buzzer to take second. Tim Goodson and David Brandt, after advancing to the finals, made winning the titles look easy. In the finals at 155 lbs., Phil Purdy, after a very close match, lost in over-time to take second. The most improved wrestler, Mike Neilands, won his title with no trouble.

Freshman Keith Roberts displays his superior wrestling ability.

Our other fine varsity wrestlers were Mike Kehoe, Jim Rigney, John Townsend, and Bill Ayers. There were three wrestlers in the 105 lb. class by the end of the season. After Mark Purdy and Bert Whitaker were both injured, Sam Brown filled in.

Outstanding senior Phil Purdy pins his opponent.

WINNING SEASON

With a team record of 5-3, the JV Wrestlers had a winning season. Co-captains were Craig Messick and Joe Abney. Craig led the team in take-downs. The backbone of the JV team was the eighth and ninth graders which included Jay White, Willie Mays, Scott Crisman, Paul Zasimowich, Will Gibbs and Billy Wescott. Coach Day invited some seventh graders to work out with the team. Even though they weren't allowed to wrestle in matches because of their age, they gave their time and effort.

When Coach Day was asked to comment on the team he replied, "The JV's did an outstanding job helping the varsity team bring back the state title. I'm counting heavily on the JV team to fit in the varsity line-up for next year. Especially since four of the state champions are leaving."

Some things seem to never change. Once again the boy's track team compiled a winning record and captured the district title. Although the season began with a defeat at Tabb; the team went on to easily win the five following meets. At the district meet in Richmond, the team clearly demonstrated its superiority to its opponents. A thunderstorm during the early part of the meet turned the cinder track into mud, but several Islanders took first places: Mike Kehoe in the mile and two mile, Mike Keating in the triple jump, Tim Goodson in the 440, Will Boylan in the high jump and the mile relay team.

From behind the bleachers, at almost any meet, spectators could often hear strains of strange conversations going on among the girl's track team.

"Do we have to run against a school with scabies?"

"I don't wanna drink Karo syrup. It'll make me sick."

"Hey, Jeanne did you remember to bring a roll of toilet paper?"

Despite these minor problems with scabies, Karo syrup, and inadequate and ill-equipped locker room facilities; the team usually treated the spectators with resounding victories. Although they narrowly lost their first meet to AA Tabb; all the other meets until district were won by seventy or more points.

DISTRICT CHAMPS (almost)

The team seemed to have an excellent chance to capture the district title. Defeat, however, came at the hands of New Kent. At Regionals new Kent won again, with Poquoson coming in third. In the bright spots of the day two regional records were set: Kathy Keating in the 440 and Jeanne Ruark in the 880. Revenge was gained at the state meet in Charlottesville. Poquoson placed fifth, far ahead of New Kent and other teams in the region. Two state records were smashed. Jeanne Ruark triumphed once again in the 880 with a time of 2:23.6. In the final race of the day the mile relay team of Kathy Keating, Donna Jurosky, Theresa Skirchak, and Jeanne Ruark humbled their opponents with a record time of 4:08.7.; bringing a memorable end to the 1977 track season.

Sixteen wins and no losses. The 1976-1977 girls softball team had an outstanding season. They played Central and Essex in the Regional Tournament. The team beat Central with a score of 9-8 and won against Essex with a 13-8 score enabling them to bring home the Regional title for the second consecutive year.

The peerless squad was led by three excellent seniors. They were Gigi Johnson, Cathy Rollins, and Cindy MacKay. Gigi, the team's elastic first baseman, had a wonderful season defensively and offensively, leading the team in base hits. Cathy Rollins, catcher, led the team in morale and spirit. Cindy MacKay, second baseman, developed into one of the best defensive players in the District.

Karen Holloway, a Junior, led the team in homeruns. Junior Robin Insley was among the top for stolen bases. Debbie Diggs, another Junior, was one of the team's best defensive players and best all around player on the squad. Sharon Pauls sparked the team with superb and dependable plays at third base. Cindy Wallace, by far the team's most versatile performer, boasted many honors. She was voted All District Pitcher, Most Valuable Player in the Regional Tournament, and the team's Most Valuable Player.

Sophomores, Connie Tracy and Denise Pyle instrumented the team as back-up pitchers. Sissy Wright was the only freshman starter on the team. Future starters of the team included Freshmen: Anne Goodson, Cindy Holloway, Lisa Roderick, Missy Perkins, and Terri Insley.

Each player contributed to the success of the team and brought about this tremendous season.

Disappointing Season

Phil Purdy scores another run for the Islanders as Larry Topping prepares to bat.

When asked about the '76 baseball season, centerfielder Jim Frishkorn sadly replied, "It was a disappointing season." During the season, everything pointed towards a state A title, but then came the district game with the Matthew's Blue Devils and Keith Atherton. The Islanders lost the game 2-0.

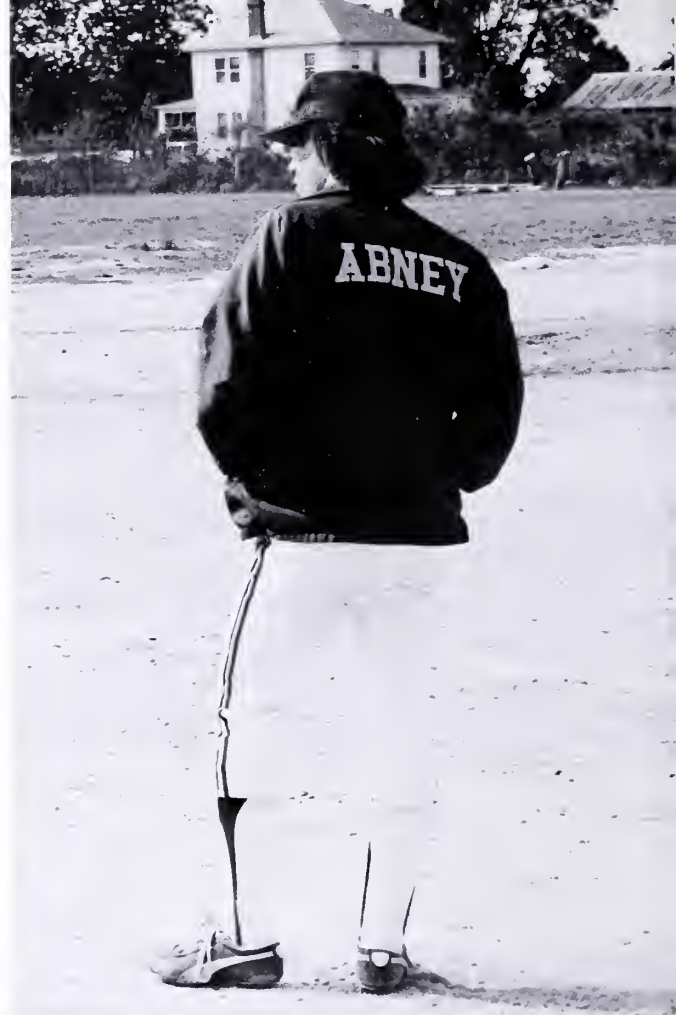

Seniors dominated the field, occupying eight of nine positions. Senior Mark Geisinger commented, "The team had a lot of unity and spirit. I think that part of this can be attributed to the fact that there are a lot of Seniors on the team who have been playing together for a few years."

Mike Keating stretches to tag the batter out at first base.

Two Islanders Make All-District

Base coach Joe Abney carefully watches the game.

Catcher Phil Purdy breaks the batter's concentration as he makes some distracting "chatter."

Despite the disappointing closing of the season, the Islanders had a good record, 15 wins and 2 losses. Coach Kimsey commented, "The winning record represents the strong efforts of many individuals."

One of the team's strengths was in its offense. David Brandt had eight homeruns while Mark Geissinger had seven. Both of these Seniors had batting averages over .460. Other strong batters included Tim Goodson and Jim Frishkorn who batted .450 and .340 respectively.

First baseman Mike Keating and center-fielder Jim Frishkorn both made All-District for the second year in a row. The only other Islander representative was David Brandt who received an honorable mention at second base.

Coach Kimsey tells Larry Topping to hold up as the King William pitcher winds up.

Third baseman Tony Sustare watches the batter intently as pitcher Mark Geissinger throws his fast ball.

GRUELING YEAR

The Poquoson High Tennis Team completed the most grueling season in its six year history. The team played twenty-three matches. They averaged three to four matches per week. Even though a winning season was not accomplished, the team dominated other Group A schools. The only loss to a school of a similar size came in a 5-4 setback to Fries High School in the state finals. Several outstanding individual records were fashioned by team members Gee Freeman, Frank Jackson and Ken Forrest. The team will be losing the services of co-captains Gee Freeman and Rusty Gates who were seniors.

ADMINISTRATION

A new concept for the Poquoson, a Middle School containing grades five through eight brought many changes to the school system. The old PHS building became the new Poquoson Middle School. Mr. Jack Wood, former assistant principal at PHS, was appointed principal. New faculty members were hired, others were transferred from the elementary and high schools. Several teachers taught at both schools. With almost 800 members, the middle school became the largest in Poquoson. As the year progressed it became evident that an assistant principal was needed to cope with so many students and their problems. Mrs. Sandra Bunting, sixth grade teacher, assumed the post of assistant principal in March.

Miss PMS

A new school and a new pageant. The first Miss PMS Pageant turned out to be a wonderful event for all who attended. Opening ceremony began with contestants singing "Top of the World." Contestants were judged by their talent, personality, poise, and evening gown competition. Jane Bunting was selected as Little Miss PMS. Kimmi Whitlow was first runner-up and Karen Hoffman, second runner-up. Contestants for this category were in fifth and sixth grades.

Leigh Lawson was chosen the winner for Miss PMS with Lisa Paillex coming in first place and Kerri Kolbeck in second. Contestants for Miss PMS were seventh and graders.

Rev. Clifford East was Master of Ceremonies. Michele Morgan, Miss PHS, crowned the winners.

The first annual Miss Poquoson Middle School Pageant ended as a tremendous success establishing a new annual event.

Little Miss PMS, Jane Bunting and Miss PMS gleam after winning their titles.

The winners were: first runner-up, Lisa Paillex; Miss PMS, Leigh Lawson; second runner-up; Kerri Kolbeck.

The Fonzie Look-a-Like Dance was a dance held at the middle school for students who wished to dress up like characters in the '50's television shows, chiefly resembling Laverne & Shirley, Pinky Tuscadero, and Fonzie.

All who participated in dressing up were told to come down to the middle of the gym. They formed a line and were judged by the ones receiving the most applause. The two winners received record albums. The winners were Sandy Millan who dressed up like Pinky Tuscadero and Michael Barton who was costumed similiar to Fonzie. Music was by a WQRK disc jockey.

Eighth grade day was a field day for eighth graders. They could come to school dressed any way they wished. They had a contest for the best dressed. Each homeroom picked the best dressed boy and girl. Between these, the entire eighth grade class voted on the best dressed. Troy Hinkle and Teresa Holloway won. Teresa was dressed as an old lady. Troy's costume consisted of long johns, shorts, a denim hat, tie, and checkered jacket.

They had a longer lunch period and got to listen to a stereo while in the cafeteria. Eighth graders got out of fifth and sixth periods. They were allowed to go outside and play games.

Troy Hinkle and his friends get a laugh out of his incredible, winning get-up.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Art Club was one of the busiest organizations at Poquoson Middle School according to Mrs. Karen Roberts, advisor. Twenty-five students were involved in the club. They started the year off trying to raise enough money to go on a year-end field trip. Members put on an October Carnival for the school and sold custom-made Valentines to the student body to build up the treasury. They decorated for the St. Patrick's Day Dance and sponsored an Art Show. At the end of the year they were able to go on a field trip to Chrysler Museum. Mrs. Roberts stated, "They worked hard and were a very enthusiastic group."

The Honor Council had two major goals to reach at the start of the year. One was to develop an honor code for PMS. The other was to maintain an honor council to investigate and adjudicate possible violations of the honor code. They succeeded in developing both.

Lynn Jackson and Mia Mullick enjoy their lunch at PHS at eighth grade orientation.

The SCA was probably the most active organization at PMS. They sponsored three school dances, football field clean-ups, magazine sales, honor council, rules committee, and lost and found. They set up election rules allowing the future fifth graders to vote for membership. The dances were a big success. Students from fifth through eighth grades attended, and the SCA made good profits.

The major project was the Care Free Gum Contest sponsored by WQRK radio station. The SCA's role in this contest was to get the entire student body involved and to collect and keep count of the amount of Care Free Gum slips turned in.

Class of

The opinions of the Class of '81 on being the uppermost grade in the middle school were vast and varied. Even so, most of the eighth graders felt that they were looked up to and liked it. Eighth grader Ray Henley commented, "Kids that are below the eighth grade come and ask questions about things they don't understand in their own grade, and they figure we have the answers."

The Eighth Graders also gave their opinions concerning the curriculum. Tom Nidiffer said, "We get the classes we are most interested in, instead of classes where you really don't know or even care about what is happening. Also, it makes the mandatory classes more interesting too!"

This year was full of many joys and sorrows for the Class of '81. The one sorrow that will remain very real to many of the Eighth Graders was the loss of a friend and Classmate Donald Carmines.

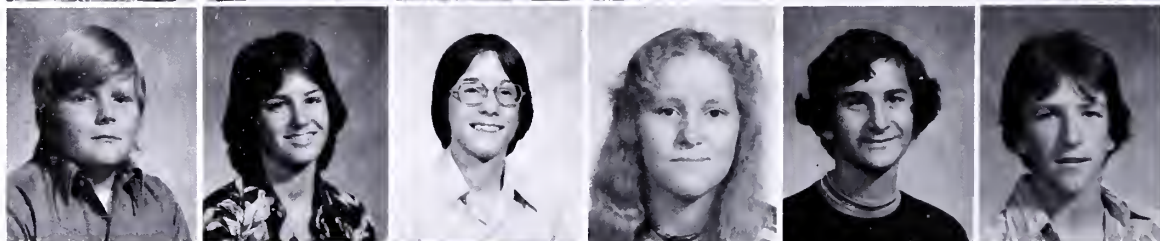

Joy Miller and other eighth graders find art enjoyable. Art was one of a wide variety of courses offered to eighth graders.

Seventh Grade

Seventh graders find the photographer's camera much more interesting than English!

With a smaller number of students at P.M.S. there were more activities to suit the needs of the students. Now there were more opportunities to join clubs, go to dances with D.J.'s, and to take more advanced classes. "We're still getting bossed around by Eighth Graders," ventured one of the Class of '82, "but somehow, now, we still feel bigger!"

Sixth graders adapted well to their new surroundings although it was a unique experience to attend a middle school. Among the changes they encountered was the loss of two teachers. At mid-term Mrs. Sandra Bunting left her teaching post to assume the role of assistant principal for Poquoson Middle School and Mr. Jim Nixon left to become assistant principal at Poquoson Elementary School.

Two teaching teams were assembled for the sixth grade. Team one was headed by Mrs. Peggy Martin and included Ms.

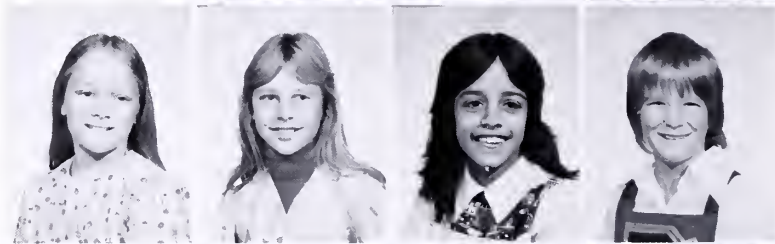

Ingrid Davis and Mrs. Joyce Dail. The second team was headed by Mrs. Agatha Warner and included Ms. Joyce Alexander and Mrs. Mary Makris.

Several field trips were planned for the year. A science field trip took the sixth grade to Rice's Pit in Hampton to search for fossils. During May the two teaching teams alternated in taking the annual sixth grade trip to Washington, D.C. In addition, the Yorktown Victory Center was the proposed site of a picnic scheduled for June.

English grammar can be difficult for sixth graders.

One of the highlights of the year was a sixth grade talent show. First place award was granted to Carol Barton for her gymnastics routine. Sonya Knur, who also did a gymnastics routine, received second place.

In an essay contest sponsored by the Exchange Club of Wythe, Susie Jones won first place and Dianne Austin placed second among the sixth graders.

Moving to a new school was an interesting experience and fifth graders were soon involved in new activities. Two teaching teams were formed with Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. Collins and Mr. Hall being on one team and the other including Mrs. Strahorn and Miss Richardson.

Fifth grade students participated in exploratory classes in art, shop and home economics. Miss Harding helped with the physical education class. Students were members of the SCA, band, chorus and they also took part in the basketball tournaments. They held a fifth grade variety show and participated in the chess and checker tournament.

Several field trips took the students to see plays presented by the Peninsula Junior Arts Series. Additional trips were taken to the Nature Museum and the Virginia Institute of Marine Science. On that trip they saw slides of marine life and had the opportunity to collect from the York River animals that could be put into an aquarium.

During art class students made leather wrist bands, macrame plant hangers, color-me-cups and they did embroidery. Several reading classes presented plays. Creative writing produced many paragraphs, stories and poems. Students especially enjoyed interviewing their parents about their own school days. In the Exchange Club essay contest, Dawn Morrison won first place for fifth graders while Beth Joyner placed second.

In the end of the year ceremonies, two Poquoson High School staff members of the order of the Bull Pen Award. Assistant Principal Olen Evans and school secretary Mrs. Mildred Insley were given the award for their support of the school and the sports teams.

Graduation time approached and for the graduating class Senioritis set in early. As the first class to graduate from the new school, they were very happy and feeling very special. Because of the large attendance at the ceremonies, policemen had to direct the parking and even the new gymnasium wasn't large enough to house the people attending graduation.

Joan Penn and Deedie Ferguson become unraveled at year's end.

FINAL DAYS

The last day of school is always an exciting one for students — and for teachers too. Since final exams were given during the last three days of school and report cards were mailed home, students had little time for the usual end-of-the-year pranks and the inevitable water-guns. Seniors had their final days with Senior Week and the burning of the class coffin. At last the end of the first year in the new school had arrived and graduation was over.

A typical sight at year's end — Dale East and his squirt gun.

The last day was more subdued than usual.
